Alisha Stair, LSCU Senior Member Engagement Consultant

With another year upon us, I'd like to thank you for your engagement and support in 2021. As we continued to battle the challenges of the pandemic, LSCU was proud to see the dedication and flexibility of Young Professionals across the Southeast in cultivating the next generation of credit union leaders.

Through virtual meetings, YP Think Tank, the Chapter Leaders' Retreat, and many other events, I'm excited to continue building our momentum in 2022. You can expect to see a quarterly newsletter and event from LSCU, along with meetups of your local YPG. For information about your local chapter's Young Professionals Group, please contact MemberEngagement@lscu.coop and our team would be happy to assist! Stay connected, stay engaged, & remember the "WHY" behind the credit union movement along every step of the way!

Coordinating Council Spotlight: 2022 President

Hello! I am so grateful for the opportunity to serve as this year's President of the LSCU Young Professional Group! I have been a part of the council for a few years now, and know that I have several big shoes to fill! I have received so many benefits over the years, both personally and professionally, from my involvement in young professional groups. I hope that we continue to provide similar value to all of the young professionals in the credit unions served by LSCU. We've already started planning some great events in 2022, and hope that each and every one of you are able to attend them over the next year! If you have any suggestions or questions about the YPG, please feel free to reach out to me at any time- I am always open to meeting other young (and young-at-heart) credit union professionals!

Thank you!
