

Join the Thousands of Georgians Who Support Credit Unions Today!

Each year credit union advocates work to prevent negative bills from impacting the credit unions in Georgia, as we could be affected by many pieces of legislation during each State and Congressional legislative session. When legislation is introduced that has a potential impact on the credit union industry, it is imperative we have supportive political leaders that we can count on to help fight for or against these bills in the favor of credit unions.

The key to gaining this political support lies in generating awareness among our elected officials regarding the issues and their potential influence on credit unions and our members. This can be accomplished through contributions to Georgia CUPAC/CULAC.

Georgia CUPAC/CULAC supports those elected officials who believe in credit unions and are willing to fight for our institutions and our members. Over 7,000 individuals contribute to Georgia CUPAC/CULAC each year, and because of their contributions . . . some as small as a dollar . . . we are able to maximize the collective impact of our donations in support of those who promote favorable legislation to enhance our industry.

Credit unions have to speak out on what is important to our industry. If we do not, our voice will be replaced by other industries that have goals much different than our own. We must make sure the legislators know how the bills they consider can impact our ability to serve our members.

During each session, hundreds of bills are introduced and any one bill can have a major impact on credit unions and millions of American consumers. Therefore, it is critical to educate legislators on credit unions, and have access to the legislators when we need them. It is critical to increase our contributions to Georgia CUPAC/CULAC.

Please consider filling out the back of this form to make a donation to Georgia CUPAC/CULAC today. We need to stay in front of our legislators and work together to secure the legislation that will help strengthen credit unions and the financial well-being of you, our valued members.

Thank you!
